

Membership Benefits

- Networking opportunities with Household Hazardous Waste and Conditionally Exempt Small Quantity Generator professionals through chapters, training classes and the national conference.
- Ability to take action with fellow members on local, regional, and national policies affecting the hazardous materials industry.
- Access to members' contact information and skills database.
- Affiliate with other associations with similar missions.
- Compete for awards recognizing notable individuals and programs in North America.
- Discounts on conference registration and training classes.
- Free job postings on NAHMMA's website.
- Receipt of the NAHMMA's newsletter and emails.

NAHMMA News - A newsletter that reports news that is specific and relevant to individuals, businesses and organizations concerned with reduction and proper management of hazardous materials generated primarily by households and small businesses. The NAHMMA News provides sources of information and the latest news on: policy and regulatory developments, legislative updates, conference and training opportunities, pilot programs and research, management and disposal techniques, use of less/non hazardous products, processes and methods, product reformulation, reuse, recycling and reclamation, job opportunities, requests for proposals.

- Discounts on select publications

E-Scrap News - NAHMMA members can now deduct 25% from the subscription price of E-Scrap News as well as take 25% off the price of E-Scrap News' electronics recycling directory. If you already subscribe, they you can take 25% off your next renewal notice. For a magazine subscription form, visit <http://www.resource-recycling.com/esn.html>.

Resource Recycling - NAHMMA members can now receive a $10 discount per subscription of Resource Recycling magazine. To receive this benefit you must be a current NAHMMA member. On the Resource Recycling magazine subscription order form simply strike out the printed price and take $10 off. Please also note on the form that you are a NAHMMA member. For a magazine subscription form, visit www.resource-recycling.com/rr.html.

Other Benefits to Florida/Caribbean Chapter Members ONLY:

In addition to the benefits listed, Florida / Caribbean Chapters members can attend the Florida Caribbean Chapter workshop for free. The workshops are typically held annually and offer the opportunity for networking with other Household Hazardous Waste and Small Quantity Generator peers and receive training. In the event that the National NAHMMA conference is held in Florida, it will be hosted by the Florida / Caribbean Chapter. Please note that our local chapter will not hold a separate conference during those years and the cost to attend the national conference cannot be waived.